

Disadvantaged financial background supporting documents

Providing evidence of financial hardship

If you receive Australian Government benefits income support

If you receive Australian Government benefits income support from Centrelink or the Department of Veteran Affairs, you should provide a copy of your income statement which must not be more than three months old at the time of your application and shows your full name, or name and address (or indicates your relationship to the person whose name and address is listed). Some examples of eligible benefits include:

- Youth Allowance
- ABSTUDY
- Disability Support Pension
- Carer Payment
- Family Tax Benefit

To ensure you are providing appropriate evidence of your Centrelink payments, please view our examples of eligible and ineligible in Appendix A.

If you don't receive Government benefits

If you are experiencing financial disadvantage but don't receive any Centrelink benefits you will need to provide:

- an impact statement detailing the impact financial disadvantage has on your education and daily life to be able to reach your full educational potential, and
- a statement of support from a relevant and responsible person who has knowledge of your situation and can comment on the impact of these circumstances on your daily life.
